Re: Judicial Watch v. DHS

22-cv-03560 (2023-HQLI-00014)

Seventh Interim Response (March 2024)

Dear Ms. Blankenberg:

This is the seventh interim response to the October 5, 2022, Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request to the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) (2023-NPFO-00006).

For this production, DHS reviewed three hundred (300) pages of which two (2) pages were released in full, eight (8) pages were duplicative, eighteen (18) pages were deemed non-responsive, and two-hundred seventy-two (272) pages were released in part pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(6). I have considered the foreseeable harm standard when reviewing the record set and have applied the FOIA exemptions as required by the statute and the Attorney General's guidance.

The two hundred seventy-four (274) pages provided are numbered DHS-001-03560-000688 to DHS-001-03560-000961.

If you have any questions regarding this release, please contact Assistant United States Attorney, Stephen DeGenaro at Stephen.DeGenaro@usdoj.gov.

Sincerely,

Eric A. Neuschaefer Senior Director

Ein T Conschaefor

An update on this narrative: we have tracked the continued growth of the Dominion narrative - the latest graphs from today :

(b)(6)we noted that the blue-check Tweets on this were not actioned, so just re-bumping, as there have been thorough fact checks. This narrative started as part of the Antrim, MI county situation (statement here) and is now being used to claim widespread fraud in Georgia (as per the Breitbart article). We can turn up more links if needed, but from our database simply searching 'Dominon' or 'glitch' turn up most of the links. We've found the spread of this thus far has been dominated not by blue-check influencers, but by smaller accounts (avg. retweets is 35, which is odd for our dataset).

for the update here, we noted the video we sent over has a 'results already have been called' label which didn't seem to make a lot of sense given the content. We can turn up more links but leaving that to the internal team.

@Facebook team we have noted no receipt of this ticket already de the bulk of the narrat HOWEVE minimal e	C partners: we have taken a look at this case through the day. We'd like to point out the progression ocumented in is thread: most of the misinformation is domestic, blue-check influencers (b)(6) drove of the spread. The Blaze covered it, and this provided collateral/fuel for Russian state-linked actors to push live on Parler, bolstering the overall meta-narrative that ballots fraud is happening left and right. R, to maintain full context, pushing it to Parler is largely preaching to the choir, and it likely got very ngagement there. So while this confirms that state-affiliated actors are involved in spreading ation, the issue is far more complex and an issue regardless of who is spreading it.

response	e working on a larger case study given this example of how to understand the historical context and best is when it is found that foreign actors were involved with disinformation events leading up to November, and re to send this your way. Our Graphika partners will take one more look at this tomorrow in case theres text they can add.

Hello Briar
	ne delayed response here – took a day to settle this out on the EIP side. to not duplicate notifications to Twitter when its (a) marked as Twitter	링크(172)(M 마니티) (1. 사이큐트)() (M 172)(M 173) (M 174) (M 174) (M 174) (M 174) (M 174)

Sorry for the delayed response here – took a day to settle this out on the EIP side. We are doing our best effort on the CIS reports to not duplicate notifications to Twitter when its (a) marked as Twitter being notified (assumption is everything sent with CIS #XXXXX has made it to Twitter) and (b) we have no substantial research to add to the matter. There have been a couple cases in the last week where we did not escalate CIS reports due to this, and we will continue to push on this front. Given how close we are to the election, I think this is the best option so that every report goes through CISA to the platforms, and EIP also sends over the relevant information only when we have further analysis to add which might be of help (more links, evidence of origination or coordination, etc.). We don't want to overwhelm them, but on the day of, I think we'd kick ourselves more for not alerting than for double reporting.

Does this sound okay? We have communicated this to our Twitter partners through our channel with them.

Subject: Reporting Twitter post with misinformation on recent Colorado mailing

Importance: High

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of DHS. DO NOT click links or open attachments unless you recognize and/or trust the sender. Contact your component SOC with questions or concerns.

Afternoon,

We'd like Twitter to review recent posts from a Denver news channel that contains misinformation about a recent mailing from the Colorado Secretary of State's office:

https://twitter.com https://twitter.com (b)(6)

The posts have been highlighted as containing false information by personnel from our office, other media sources, and others. At best, we'd suggest they be removed as promoting inaccurate and false information. At a minimum, we'd request they be labeled as "false".

For rapid contact, I'm reachable by text or Signal at (b)(6)

Hey (b)(6) Thanks again for the convo today.

I went to add the EIP flow we talked about to our internal docs and realized it would be better (and easier for me!) if we used the same one. Any chance you could share what you wrote down so I can shamelessly copy it into our CIS processes?

Second question: do you have a preference for which email address I should use?

Thanks, (b)(6)

Subject: Question about spam texts

Hi!

Given the spike in misinformation texts, I had an idea:

Is there any outreach to mass text services (e.g. Twilio) for them to report suspicious mass message requests that might be disinformation? It wouldn't be perfect, but it seems like a way to potentially determine types of disinformation "in the wild" and who is being targeted (e.g. phone area code).

Thanks,

Subject		Dangling EIP Tickets
Hello E	EI-ISAC,
there l the ink on the	nas bee bound a ticket,	e me to follow up on the outstanding tickets tagged for EIP notification. As far as they can see, en no communication from the ISAC to SLTT stakeholders following EIP analysis to-date, in both and outbound streams. I suspect there has been notification and it just has not been signposted but they would like to check in and see if we could get notifications sent out, as well as the tickets summarizing ISAC action, by EOD today.
Here a	re the	outstanding tickets I am tracking for ISAC notification:
